BOARD OF COUNTY COMMISSIONERS

Resolution

WHEREAS, Odyssey of the Mind is the world's largest creative problem-solving educational competition for students; and

WHEREAS, the SEA PARK ELEMENTARY SCHOOL ODYSSEY OF THE MIND TEAM secured a first place win at the county level and progressed to the Florida State Tournament at the University of Central Florida on April 9; and

WHEREAS, the Sea Park Elementary Team includes students Mia Adamitis, Kate Bloom, Jonah Hatcher, Lars Krabbe, Victoria McDine, Sarah Miller, and Lauren Williams with head coach & Sea Park teacher Catherine Bloom and parent coaches Ken and Sophie Williams; and

WHEREAS, the Sea Park Division I team's problem to solve was Classics...Aesop Gone Viral in which they executed delivery of their outstanding original performance set in Medieval times, about an Aesop fable that goes "viral" – that is, being shared throughout the community and beyond; and

WHEREAS, the team's creativity and "outside the box" thinking was demonstrated through the use of colored tissue paper on a Plexiglas surface for a stained glass window, a shield made of sea shells, flags made of candy wrappers, a jester costume entirely made of dyed socks, and a complete knight's costume made solely out of soda pop tabs; and

WHEREAS, costumes and props made out of recycled materials helped Sea Park receive the highest score in the "style" category, ultimately bringing them to the top of the leaderboard where their hard work and dedication to Odyssey of the Mind was clearly evident; and

WHEREAS, the SEA PARK ELEMENTARY SCHOOL ODYSSEY OF THE MIND TEAM tied for first place in their respective division and will advance to the Odyssey of the Mind World Finals Competition at Iowa State University on May 24 – 29; and
