Importance: High

Dear Fellow Commissioners:

Please see attached memorandum which does not solicit feedback from any Commissioner and Commissioners are specifically asked not to respond to it (or discuss it amongst one another outside of a duly noticed BoCC meeting) as doing so could and likely would constitute a violation of one or more provisions of Chapters 119 and/or 286, Fla. Stat. So that it may be made available to the public, a copy of this memo is being provided to the Clerk to the Board so that it may be included in the minutes for the Tuesday, August 4, 2020 BoCC meeting.

Please do not reply, reply all, or acknowledge receipt.

Thank you.

Kind regards,

Bryan

Memo Discussing Issue Coming before BoCC on Thursday, August 6, 2020

This memorandum does not solicit feedback from any Commissioner and Commissioners are specifically asked not to respond to it (or discuss it amongst one another outside of a duly noticed BoCC meeting) as doing so could and likely would constitute a violation of one or more provisions of Chapters 119 and/or 286, Fla. Stat. So that it may be made available to the public, a copy of this memo is being provided to the Clerk to the Board so that it may be included in the minutes for the Tuesday, August 4, 2020 BoCC meeting. Please see the attached County Attorney's Office Inter-Office Memo dated December 12, 2016 which indicates that communications of this variety are authorized under applicable law.

Please be advised that this is a memo primarily pertaining to increasing the amount of CARES Act funding allocated to CareerSource Brevard.

At a special meeting of the BoCC, which I called to address a potential mask mandate as well as CARES Act funding allocation, on June 30, 2020, the Board of County Commissioners voted to support an allocation to CareerSource Brevard in the initial amount of $750,000 to assist in reemploying workers who lost their jobs on account of COVID-19 obtain employment at local businesses which were impacted by COVID-19, though only one of the two preceding scenarios was contemplated as being mandatory.

I genuinely thank my fellow commissioners for supporting this program, which I worked extensively with CareerSource Brevard in formulating (and submitting to County staff for review) prior to its introduction at the June 30 BoCC meeting. This program is excellent in that it provides a true work-incentive as opposed to straight grants which subsidize an individual's mere existence (and continued use of gaseous oxygen from the air).

At the time the item was introduced to the BoCC, I mentioned that I might be coming back to the BoCC to request increased funding following execution and implementation of the initial agreement.

Having remained in ongoing contact with CareerSource Brevard, I understand that they have received approximately 160 applications from employers throughout Brevard County. To fully fund one employee for all those applicants, CareerSource would require an additional $1.5M over and above the $750,000 initially allocated. To fund two employees for all business applicants which requested two or more employees, through the program, it would cost an additional $1M. Keep in mind that many of these jobs pay far above minimum wage and benefit not only local businesses but also local job applicants who seek to reestablish financial self-sufficiency and once again positively contribute to the local economy. It is essentially a BOGO as both the businesses and the employees win – a two birds with one stone type of thing.

District 2 Includes

County Manager Frank Abbate will ask for BoCC direction, this evening, on increasing the allocation to CareerSource Brevard by $2.5M (as previously detailed). I encourage everyone to support this program which will have a very real impact on the local economy and touch a number of businesses and families.

As to the small business direct assistance previously approved by the BoCC, the period for application is nearing a close. Monday, August 10, is the last day for businesses to apply for up to a $10,000 grant through this program. While some criticized the $10M allocated by the BoCC as being insufficient for this purpose, as it presently stands, all qualifying applicants could be fully funded, out of the initial $10M allocation, with money to spare.

The relevant numbers, as of yesterday, were as follows:

Applications pending grant award	53	$488,185
Applications Under Review	37
Applications Sent for Approval	65
Applications Pending Additional Info	148
Applications Denied	11
Applications Withdrawn	4
Applications in Progress	970

While Mr. Abbate may propose one or more options with respect to what to do on the small business direct assistance front, I would propose the BoCC consider the following:

Following the August 10 deadline, provided we remain able to fund all qualifying applicants out of the $10M initial allocation, authorize staff to pay out, as quickly as reasonably possible, the grants, in the full amounts requested and qualified, to those businesses which timely applied and qualified during this initial cycle of small business direct assistance.

I would additionally propose that we allow for a second round of funding applications with slightly relaxed qualifying requirements to assist a greater number of local businesses.

The second round would consist of a full $10M allocation, derived from any amount left unpaid from the first round of small business direct assistance plus the difference between that amount and the full $10M which may be obtained from unallocated CARES Act funding.

I suggest that we initially limit the funding available to local businesses, through this second round, to $8000 and that we disqualify any business which qualified and received funding under our initial round of small business direct assistance. I recommend expanding those allowed to apply from those businesses with a valid county business tax receipt to additionally encompass those businesses with valid business tax receipts from any of the municipalities within Brevard County. I would also expand the program to allow funding to businesses which received federal aid but, at least initially, limit the funding those businesses would be able to receive to the difference between their actual COVID-attributable losses/expenses and the amount already offset by any federal aid received. In essence, if federal aid did not make them whole, they would be able to apply for the difference needed to make them whole, up to the $8000 cap. This helps local a greater number of local businesses but prohibits businesses from double-dipping and profiting off of COVID-19 – which, aside from being immoral, reduces the funding available to businesses with genuine unresolved shortfalls. Beyond this, I would keep all requirements and structure identical to the first round of small business direct assistance for consistency.

Should the above two proposals be supported by the BoCC, we will help many more local businesses and job-seekers, in a manner incentivizing work and productivity, while also maintaining enough unallocated funding, in reserve, to address any unforeseen issues which may crop up between now and the end of calendar year 2020.

BOARD OF COUNTY COMMISSIONERS

County Attorney's Office
2725 Judge Fran Jamieson Way
Building C, Room 308
Viera, Florida 32940

Inter-Office Memo

TO: Scott Knox
FROM: Alex Esseeesse
SUBJECT: Ability for commissioner to send out a memorandum or position statement to the other commissioners on an issue that will go before the Board
DATE: 12/8/16

Issue: A commissioner wants to prepare and circulate a written memorandum to the other members of the Board of County Commissioners that discusses an issue that will go before the Board. This memorandum will include the commissioner's stance/position on the matter and will likely recommend that a certain course of action be taken by the Board.

Question: Can a commissioner prepare and circulate a memorandum/position statement to other commissioners on an issue that will go before the Board without violating the Government in the Sunshine Law, Chapter 286, Florida Statutes?

Short Answer: Yes, but with caution. No discussions of the information/positions outlined in the memorandum can be discussed outside of a public meeting; the memorandum cannot solicit feedback from the other Board members; there cannot be any responses to the memorandum prior to the public meeting; and, because the memorandum is a public record, a copy must be made available to the public. Furthermore, the memorandum/statement cannot be used as a substitute for action at a public meeting and cannot be used to enable staff to act as an intermediary among the commissioners.¹

Analysis

The Government in the Sunshine Law was adopted, at least in part, to prohibit public business from being conducted in private. Put another way, "[o]ne purpose of the [G]overnment in the [S]unshine [L]aw was to prevent at nonpublic meetings the crystallization of secret decisions to a point just short of ceremonial acceptance."² In order to accomplish this goal, Florida law provides that ¹See, Op. Att'y Gen. Fla. 01-21 (2001).

²Palm Beach v. Gradison, 296 So.2d 473, 477 (Fla. 1974).

[a]ll meetings of any board or commission . . . of any agency or authority of any county, . . . except as otherwise provided in the Constitution, including meetings with or attended by any person elected to such board or commission, but who has not yet taken office, at which official acts are to be taken are declared to be public meetings open to the public at all times, and no resolution, rule, or formal action shall be considered binding except as taken or made at such meeting.³

Courts have found that, “[i]n order for there to be a violation of [Fla. Stat. § 286.011], a meeting between two or more public officials must take place which is violative of the statute’s spirit, intent, and purpose.”⁴ However, despite this assertion, it has been established that “the physical presence of two or more members is not necessary in order to find the Sunshine Law applicable.”⁵ In practice, this means that Fla. Stat. § 286.011 “should be construed so as to frustrate all evasive devices” used to circumvent the statute’s purposes of transparency and openness.⁶

Florida Attorney General Interpretations

The Florida Attorney General has issued a number of opinions on when and how official subject to the Government in the Sunshine Law can use memoranda to discuss their stances and/or suggest certain positions be taken on issues requiring official action before their respective boards. For example, in AGO 2007-35, the Florida Attorney General was tasked with determining whether city commissioners could exchange documents on issues that would come before the commission for official action. As mentioned above, “the courts and this office have found that there are instances where the physical presence of two or more members is not necessary in order to find the Sunshine Law applicable.”⁷ The Attorney General found that “a commissioner may send informational material to the other commissioners outside of a public meeting provided that there is no interaction between or response from the other commissioners.”⁸ Importantly,

[w]hile it is not a direct violation of the Sunshine Law for members to circulate their own written position statements to other council members so long as the council members avoid any discussion or debate among themselves on these statements, the members’ discussions and deliberations on matters coming before the commission must occur at a duly noticed [meeting] and . . . must not be used to circumvent the requirements of [Fla. Stat. § 286.011].

³Fla. Stat. § 286.011(1).

Ultimately, the Attorney General found that a commissioner may send documents to other members of the commission on matters going before the commission for official action, “provided that there is no response from, or interaction related to such documents among, the commissioners prior to the public meeting.”⁹

In AGO 01-21, the Florida Attorney General was asked whether board members could prepare individual position statements on the same subject and exchange these memoranda to the other board members. In the situation outlined in AGO 01-21, board members “prepare[d] and circulate[d] statements meant to communicate a particular council member’s position on issues coming before the board,” but these statements did not solicit responses from the other members and were made available to the public.¹⁰ The Florida Attorney General’s Office found that “[w]hile [it] would strongly discourage such activity, it would appear that council members . . . may prepare and distribute their own position statements to other council members without violating the Government in the Sunshine Law so long as the council members avoid any discussion or debate among themselves on these statements.”¹¹ More specifically, the Florida Attorney General noted that such a practice would become “problematic” if and when “any such communication [was] a response to another commissioner’s statement” because it opened the door for board members to respond to one another outside of a duly noticed meeting, causing the requirements of Fla. Stat. § 286.011 to be circumvented.¹² Despite reaching such a conclusion, the preparation and distribution of such memoranda/statements amongst the commissioners would not be a “direct violation of the Government in the Sunshine Law.”¹³

The Florida Attorney General issued an opinion (AGO 96-35) that addressed the issue of whether a school board member could circulate a memorandum “expressing that member’s position on a matter that [would] come before the school board for action and urging the other board members to give the author’s position very serious consideration.”¹⁴ Importantly, “[t]he memorandum [did] not request other board members to respond prior to the meeting at which the topic will be brought up for action or discussion.”¹⁵ The Attorney General made it a point of identifying circumstances where the use of a memorandum would not be permitted. For example, a memorandum cannot request board members to respond with comments and/or to request the board members to “indicate his or her approval or disapproval” for certain views.¹⁶ Based on such a position, the Attorney General came to the conclusion that if a school board member writes a memorandum to provide information to make a recommendation to other school board members on a particular subject, there is no violation of [Fla. Stat. § 286.011]. However, the use of a memorandum to solicit comment from other members of the board or commission or the circulation of responsive memoranda by other board members would violate the statute. Such action would be equivalent to private meetings discussing the public business through the use of memoranda without allowing an opportunity for public input.¹⁷

Another Florida Attorney General opinion (AGO 89-23) found that “[t]he use of a written report by one [city] commissioner to inform other commissioners of a subject which will be discussed at a public meeting does not violate Florida’s Government in the Sunshine Law if prior to the public meeting, there is no interaction related to the report among the commissioners.”¹⁸ Again, in that situation, the other commissioners were not requested to and did not provide any comments on the report prior to the public meeting. The Attorney General determined that the memorandum would be allowed as long as “[t]he circumstances . . . do not . . . involve the use of a report as a substitute for action at a public meeting, inasmuch as there is no interaction among the commissioners prior to the public meeting.” Furthermore, the memorandum cannot be used by other city officials, such as a city manager, “to act as intermediary among the commissioners” to ask “each commissioner to state his or her position on a specific matter which will foreseeably be considered by the commission at a public meeting in order to provide information to the members of the commission.”¹⁹

Conclusion

A County commissioner is permitted to prepare and circulate a memorandum on an issue to go before the Board. However, no discussions of the information/positions outlined in the memorandum can be discussed outside of a public meeting; the memorandum cannot solicit feedback from the other Board members; there cannot be any responses to the memorandum prior to the public meeting; and, because the memorandum is a public record, a copy must be made available to the public. Additionally, the memorandum/statement cannot be used as a substitute for action at a public meeting and cannot be used to enable staff to act as an intermediary among the commissioners.
